

ANN HOLLIDAY

President – PowerStudies, Inc

Phone: 253-656-5336 Ext: 101 Email: holliday@powerstudies.com

PROJECT SUPPORT

- Manages distribution of projects to appropriate personnel
- Performs short circuit, protective device coordination, and arc flash power system studies for industrial, commercial, and governmental clients
- Creates impedance diagrams

CUSTOMER RELATIONS AND SERVICE

- Customer liaison for determining current status of projects
- Provides support in contacting contractors and engineers to get needed information to perform studies
- Provides support to customers and employees

AREAS OF EXPERTISE

- Responsible for departmental management and daily business operations
- Instrumental in training new engineers and technicians in performing power system studies
- Specializes in achieving selectively coordinated distribution systems for FAA and other clients
- Proficient in the use of SKM Power Tools software
- Efficient in the use of EDSA software and EasyPower

EDUCATION & PROFESSIONAL CREDENTIALS

- SKM Power Tools Software Training Course – 2004
- Word Computer Course – Levels 1 and 3 -1998
- EDSA Software Training Course – 1998
- University of Wisconsin – Introduction to Protective Relaying Course – 1997
- Gray Book Class – 1997
- University of Wisconsin – Electrical Design for the Non Electrical Engineer Course – 1996
- Renton Technical Institute – Applied Plant and Machine Maintenance Course – 1994
- Renton Technical Institute – Basic Electricity Course – 1994

EMPLOYMENT HISTORY

- 2022 – Present: President – PowerStudies, Inc., Maple Valley, WA
- 2015 – 2022: Vice President – PowerStudies, Inc., Maple Valley, WA
- 2004 – 2015: Engineering Manager – PowerStudies, Inc., Maple Valley, WA
- 1994 – 2004: Engineering Assistant – Powerstudies, Inc., Covington, WA
- 1992 – 1994: Office Administrator – Power Systems Engineering , Auburn, WA